Inventis announces Memorandum of Understanding for supplying class-leading technologies to enhance respiratory health.

Inventis Technology Pty Ltd today announces the signing of a Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) enabling the company to supply technology to medical imaging disruptor, 4DMedical Limited (4DMedical).

This MoU enables a cooperative supply agreement between the two companies to be pursued, enabling commercial sale of Inventis developed technologies with the potential to complement 4DMedical proprietary four-dimensional lung imaging technology.

Ultimately this collaboration will draw upon the expertise of two highly innovative companies in their respective fields, offering the possibility of more timely diagnosis and treatment of respiratory disease for more people.

Inventis Technology is a quality Australian-owned manufacturer and innovator, based in Sydney, but with a global vision of the future.

“It is great to see cutting-edge technology developed in this country contributing to a future sovereign capability,” said Inventis Group Managing Director, Anthony Mankarios. “Inventis is proud to bring its industrial expertise and experience into a future collaboration that can ultimately save lives.”
