

Singing Drag Queen Circus Extravaganza Arrives In The Southern Highlands

Kara Zmatiq Monday, April 4th, 2022

Bowral, NSW - April 4, 2022 - Sing and Dance the night away with circus performers, a cabaret show and an iconic singing drag queen this June in Bowral at Dinner Cabaret & Circus Show 'Dressed To Chill' for one-night-only on Saturday 18th June 2022, at Centennial Vineyards Restaurant.

Dressed To Chill is an interactive circus and cabaret extravaganza, produced and headlined by former Australia's Got Talent contestant, singing drag queen extraordinaire of the Southern Highlands, Kara Zmatiq.

Enchanted by a huge fireplace, Centennial Vineyards Restaurant renown as one of the most magnificent settings for events and special occasions, a destination where memories last a lifetime, will be adorned with sequins and snowflakes when Dressed To Chill debut's in the region, as the first first show of it's kind in the Southern Highlands, abreast award winning cool climate wines and a showcase three course menu, drawing upon local produce.

Over the last two years, the Covid19 pandemic has made it difficult for entertainers to find and create performance opportunities. Kara Zmatiq shares their excitement and enthusiasm for bringing drag and live entertainment to the Southern Highlands. "I want to bring the magic and excitement of theatre, performing arts and drag to the Southern Highlands. I have been fortunate already to entertain and headline events in the Southern Highlands and now I want to pay it forward by inviting local talents to share the spotlight with me which will be an incredibly exciting opportunity for everyone involved" - says Executive Producer and headlining entertainer, Kara Zmatiq.

"We are thrilled to be part of this incredible Cabaret Show produced by Kara Zmatiq. Winter Coats are a must - but you won't need them for long, as we heat up the Highlands with some of our hottest acts, from extreme flexibility to balancing, guests can expect high-class circus at it's best!", says Melise Avion owner of Avion Entertainment, who will perform unbelievable circus acts throughout the show.

"This is going to be a spectacular collaboration of local talent, I am very excited to see so many local performers coming together to create this one of a kind performance - it truly will be like nothing ever seen before in this region.", says Monique Barrios owner of Point Dynamic Arts, who will be choreographing and dancing throughout the show.

Dressed To Chill is proudly supported by local businesses and the community who are excitedly spreading the word by hanging posters in their shopfront windows, sharing with their friends on social media and snapping up tickets, while florist Sarah Norris of FlowerFlower, prepares to set the scene with beautiful winter floral arrangements and Stuart Udy of Events Pro Shop Bowral, sets the stage with state-of-the-art sound and lighting to enhance the sensory experience.
