

My favorite Menopause supplement is now FREE for my readers - anyone interested ?

Natural Health Media Tuesday, May 31st, 2022

Those of you who regularly read my articles will know I love the Menopause supplement known as Menoxcel. There are lots of reason I love it, the first one being that it works, but most importantly, of all the products I review it is the one I get most positive feedback from about how it has helped so many of my readers live a normal life again.

And right now the company behind Menoxcel, New Zealand based Regenex Laboratories, have actually contacted me and offered me the chance to give away 500 bottles of Menoxcel for FREE to my readers in North America. You'll need to pay a small shipping fee but the product itself is absolutely free. There's no tricks or email spam. Just pay shipping and get a full 45 days trial for free.

So, if you are interested, here is how you do it - go to their website link BY CLICKING HERE and order 1 bottle of Menoxcel (the single bottle option). During the checkout process enter the discount code FREEFORME when prompted (make sure you apply or activate the code) and the price will change to zero. Then only the shipping charge of around $9.95 will show at the end.

If you are new to my reviews and not sure about Menoxcel, or how it works, just read on and I will try to explain in my own words how effective the product can be. No more night sweats, hot flashes, mood swings or lack of sleep.

So a study of over 3,204 menopausal women revealed that missing dietary vitamins and minerals, that deplete from the body during the menopause phase, lead to the nasty symptoms, including the night sweats, the mood changes, the ability to sleep and hot flashes, and it seems there are 7 common elements missing.

There are 3 amino acids, known as L-Lysine, L-Arginine and L-Carnitine, along with the thyroid balancing element of Iodine and B group vitamins. There are also common elements, such as Magnesium and Zinc, that everyone becomes deficient in with age.

Menopause is not a disease, it is a natural part of a woman's evolution, but most pharmaceutical companies, and some media outlets, would have you believe you are suffering an incurable disease. The spokesperson for Regenex Laboratories, Angela Sy, says "we are not attempting to cure Menopause, as Menopause is a natural part of the life cycle, but we are looking to relieve all the symptoms that are associated with this critical period of change, and make life as comfortable and as normal as possible."

Anxiety is also associated with Menopause, particularly in the peri-menopause phase, and so the makers have included Folic Acid, a clever source of Vitamin B9 which is easily absorbable into the body. Often referred to as the happiness vitamin, the folate produced from Folic Acid helps to calm the body and balance mood swings.

As mentioned before, this product which contains all of the 7 missing elements in perfect balance, is known as Menoxcel. So if you haven't yet tried Menoxcel
