Response to Vasey RSL Care story on A Current Affair.

An edition of A Current Affair broadcast on Channel 9 on Saturday 16 May included a story whereby Vasey RSL Care's aged care homes and independent villages have been directed to be sold before 2023 by the Victorian Sub-Branch of the Returned and Services League of Australia (RSL Clubs). A situation causing concern for a significant number of returned services people and their families.

In direct response to this, as a not-for-profit organisation, Vasey Communities NSW (previously known as Vasey Housing Association) wish to immediately and absolutely reassure all Vasey Communities' retirement village residents, families and the broader community that - Vasey RSL Care is, in no way, connected with Vasey Communities in NSW.

Vasey Communities' residences include our retirement village communities in Epping, Maroubra, Lane Cove and Hunters Hill as well as Kokoda Residences, Waitara.

Further to this, Vasey Communities categorically states it has no plans to sell any, or any part, of these highly valued retirement village communities.
